

St Mary's College Academy of Music and Arts

Following the huge success of its Performing Arts programme in conjunction with the Royal Shakespeare Company, St Mary's College is establishing a regional centre for excellence in music. This Academy of Music and Arts is a real opportunity to refresh the vision for music and arts education.

Alongside many partner primary and secondary schools in the city we are recruiting music teachers to bring a fresh, relevant and affordable vision of music provision to the city for young people aged 3-19. Please see our advertisement on our website: <http://www.smchull.org/Vacancies>

Rather than continually pass on ever increasing costs to families, of an increasingly limited offer, with partners we aim to provide much needed leadership, to improve the tuition service offered and enhance music education for all pupils.

Parents with any queries should contact the school.